

MEGAPHONES OF PRAISE

A Sunday school craft that helps children confess their belief in Jesus.

by Leah Pittsinger

TOPICS:

Roman's Road, Praise, Salvation

MATERIALS:

Card stock paper

Stapler/tape

Various craft supplies: markers, stickers, glitter pens, craft poms (with hot glue), etc.

DURATION:

Approximately 10 minutes

PREPARATION:

Place a piece of card stock paper at each child's place. Spread out the craft supplies across a table so they are within reach of all the children. Lastly, prepare an example craft by following the directions below.

WHAT YOU WILL DO:

Ask the children to decorate the card stock paper. You may suggest that children draw pictures or write words/symbols that represent praise (such as music notes). Once completed, help each child roll up his or her paper into a megaphone shape by rolling one end tighter than the other end. Then staple/tape the megaphones so they stay in place. Children may practice using their megaphones to share messages of praise.

Application: We confess our belief in Jesus by talking about our faith in Him, singing praise songs, praying, and offering words of encouragement. Let's take turns using our megaphones to praise God and confess our belief in Him!
